Annual Giving and Fundraising:

As with other successful independent schools, tuition and fees at Clariden cover only a portion of the cost your child's education. The difference is met through contributions to the Annual Fund. All parents will be invited each year to select a level of participation that is appropriate for their family. The participation of all families is key to our mission of providing a strong academic, personal and social learning environment.

The annual auction and other fundraising events and campaigns provide additional opportunities to enrich the campus and program.

Special gifts to Clariden for campus expansion are welcome at any time. A campaign specific to this purpose is anticipated in the near future.

The Clariden School is a 501(c)(3) not-profit school. Donations are tax-deductible as allowed by law.
