

Job Description – Middle School Humanities Educator

Reports to: Head of School

Wage/Hour Status: Salaried/Exempt

The Clariden School is a not-for-profit, private, fully-accredited, college-preparatory school serving students PreK – Grade 12 in North Texas (Dallas-Fort Worth area). Clariden works to ignite student curiosity and problem-solving skills by first providing a program that addresses the whole student. With a focus on STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math), character-based kindness, and hands-on field study, our goal is to equip students for the jobs of tomorrow and to be contributing citizens in their local & global communities.

Employees at The Clariden School are expected to be respectful, responsible, self-directed, growth-minded individuals who are interested in not only providing the best for students but also developing and honing their skills as a professional. Employees are responsible for providing their students with appropriate learning activities and experiences in the academic subjects assigned to the educator to help the students fulfill their potential for intellectual, emotional, physical and social growth.

Clariden is currently undergoing exciting growth on campus in its physical facilities and size of its student body. We are currently building a state-of-the-art Upper School STEAM building, which will be ready for occupancy in Fall 2022.

The Middle School Humanities teacher will teach the 6th grade English and World Cultures classes, as well as 7th grade English and Texas History with the potential to teach 8th grade English. Additional responsibilities include serving as an advisor for a small group of students, supervising study halls, and collaborating with the Middle and/or Upper School team in students' STEAM class and leading at least one project per year. There are additional opportunities to lead National (Junior) Honor Society (NHS/NJHS) and Model UN. This position is for the 2022-2023 school year, and the candidate's employment will begin on August 1, 2022.

Requirements:

- A minimum of a baccalaureate degree or equivalent in history/social sciences or equivalent experience within the field of education. Certification is preferred.
- A strong understanding of how children learn and develop; observation, documentation and assessment of students' work; curriculum development; and professional and instruction practices.

- A strong desire for professional development and a demonstrated growth mindset.
- Strong organizational, communication and interpersonal skills.
- Knowledge of the academic subject(s) assigned.
- Ability to instruct and appropriately manage student behavior.
- 3+ years of English and/or history teaching experience strongly preferred, but will consider all applications with educational background in English, history, or social sciences.
- Experience with Project-Based Learning (PBL) preferred.
